

DANI RABWIN, DVM

VETERINARIAN | FOUNDER | SPEAKER | MENTOR

In her copy of Dr. Seuss's My Book About Me, four-year-old Dani wrote that she wanted to be a trapeze artist or animal doctor. She decided against the circus, and today Dr. Dani Rabwin is a veterinarian, communication coach, author, speaker, and mentor. She is the founder of Ready, Vet, Go, a remote veterinary mentorship program and community that supports new and early-career veterinarians and complements the clinical mentorship that practices provide to their new associates. She graduated from UC Davis in 2004 and completed an internship at Michigan Veterinary Specialists. She feels extremely privileged to be able to help veterinarians thrive in this profession that she loves so much.
